

CEPSA Annual Conference: CEE – A REGION IN-BETWEEN

26-27 September 2019

The Annual Conference of the Central European Political Sciences Association (CEPSA) on the topic of Central Eastern Europe as a region in-between, took place at the University in Pécs in September 2019. The project team participated in the conference, presenting papers on relevant topics and took the opportunity to introduce the project "Understanding Identities and Regions – Perspectives on V4 and WB" to the audience.

Papers were presented by Christina Griessler on Regional Cooperation as tool to address bilateral conflicts in the Western Balkan, Adam Bence Balazs on Identity on the borders and by Hana Semanic on External influences of Russia, Turkey, China and the Gulf States in Montenegro.

Beside the conference the project team was able to discuss the book project.
