In the framework of Young Citizens Danube Network, FreedomKeepers has organized an international conference and workshop on the 14th and 15th of May with the subject of "Human Trafficking in Europe". The aim of the workshop is to bring experts and interested parties together, to give them opportunity to discuss the issue, to approach possible solutions, to focus attention on the matter and to ensure that all participants learn more about human trafficking.

The conference will be held on the 14th of May 2015 where various experts from Romania, Germany and Hungary will take a closer look at the subject within these countries: how it is regulated at a Member-State level, who are the victims and perpetrators and what structures of human trafficking exist today in the respective countries.

On the 15th of May there will be screenings of two current movies focused on sexual and labour exploitation with discussions involving directors, actors, sociologists and the audience.

FRIDAY, 15. MAY

- 10:00 MOVIE SCREENING
Labour Exploitation: „Csicska” (Hungary 2011, 20.min)
István Balogh, a not very affluent Hungarian farmer, lords over his wife, children and his "hired" slave. Cut off from the rest of the world on a distant farm in the Great Plains, he tries to uphold a family ideal he formulated from rigid traditions. The close-knit, albeit extreme, human relations sweep these characters towards tragedy. The film was inspired by articles, news programs, and the recollections of individuals who lived through similar situations.
- 12:00 Break
- 13:00 Sexual exploitation: „Viktoria: A Tale of Grace and Greed” (Hungary/Switzerland 2014, 88.min)
The Roma Viktoria, leaves her home town of Budapest to earn the big money in Switzerland. Every night she finds herself as a prostitute in the back alleys of Zurich. Although surrounded by greed, fast sex and violence she also finds friendship, love and herself.
Discussion with Anna Maros – (screenwriter)
- 16:00 End of the workshop
